SON SLAUGHTERED NEAR HAWESVILLE

In Self Defense by Father—Whiskey Causes Terrible Tragedy in the Home of Lon Adkins.

FRANK ADKINS DEAD.

An extra edition of the Hancock Clarion carried news of the sad tragedy which happened Sunday afternoon when at the home of Lon Adkins, when he shot one of his sons to death and probably fatally wounded another. Willie and Frank Adkins, who reside near Hawesville, somewhat under the influence of liquor drove to the home of their father, Lon Adkins, who lives in the Chambers neighborhood. Will Adkins went for the purpose of getting his 9 year old son, Cicero, who had been making his home with his grandfather, since the death of his mother four years ago. A year ago his father married again and Sunday went for the purpose of taking him to his own home, but the boy did not want to leave his grandfather. Mr. Adkins told his son it was all right if Cicero wanted to go, but he did not think he was in a condition to take care of the child. Will Adkins commanded his son to return with him, but the boy objected. This brought cruel words which Frank Adkins rebuked his brother severely. However, they started off reconciled without Cicero and invited their mother to come to see them. As they were leaving, their father said: "Boys, the next time you come to my house, come sober and see if you can behave yourselves." Simultaneously the two men started toward their father, who ran for his revolver. "Boys, don't come in," warned the father. They paid no attention and ran the father, through the house, yard and orchard. They did not heed and Will, raised a hoe handle as if to strike his father, who fired his pistol. The bullet struck Will in the upper part of the stomach. After Will was shot Frank kept rushing on his father, who fired on him, the bullet entering his heart. Frank Adkins dropped dead.

Lon Adkins, the father, is heart-broken and Mrs. Adkins is inconsolable. Frank Adkins leaves a wife, five children and two step daughters. Will Adkins has the one son, Cicero Adkins. The physicians say he will recover. Lon Adkins had his examining trial yesterday.

Engagement Announced.

Jones-Smith.

The marriage of Miss Lucile Jones and Mr. Turner Beale Smith was solemnized in Elizabethtown last Wednesday afternoon at the bride's home. Mr. Smith is the brother of Mrs. Hugh Wood, of this city. Mrs. Wood and her mother, Mrs. Kitchen, met Mr. and Mrs. Smith in Louisville Thursday and were entertained at the Seelbach.

Excursion Saturday.

The handsome excursion boat, Homer Smith, of West Virginia, will be run from Cloverport to Owensboro Saturday, June 12. The tickets are 50 cents and 25 cents for children. The boat has created much interest here. Its capacity is 3,000 people.

Stores Close Early.

All the Cloverport grocery and mercantile stores will close at six o'clock every evening during the summer except Saturday nights and "pay night."

Fine Strawberries.

John D. Babbage received last week a gallon of the largest strawberries that has ever been seen. They were sent Mr. Babbage by William Mattingly, of Buechel, Ky., from his farm on Rural Route No. 10, box 179. Mr. Mattingly is making a success in growing small fruits, and the berries he sent were certainly fine evidence of his work and prosperity. The editor of The Breckenridge News appreciates being remembered and is glad to see what his subscribers are accomplishing.

Cincinnati Cooperage Company Discontinued.

William Lynch, of Irvin, Ky., was here last week on business. Mr. Lynch said that the Cincinnati Cooperage Co., with which he has been connected for seventeen years, has discontinued business entirely. Evelyn Clark, the manager, is now in Colorado, where he is in business. Mr. Clark's family is with him.

Twenty-one Days Rain on Corn.

Hawkins Smith said Monday that for twenty-one days rain had fallen on his crop of 200 acres of corn. That he had not been able to get his plows going, but he started three cultivators and five single plows to work Monday in spite of the rain, and trusting for a little sunshine.

Bookstore Bankrupt.

Proceedings in involuntary bankruptcy were instituted against Charles T. Dearing, proprietor of the Dearing bookstore on Fourth street in Louisville. The petition was filed by three creditors, who gave the amounts alleged due them as follows: Gibson Art Company, Cincinnati, $350; C. E. Merrill, New York, $16.30; Gottschalk, Dreyfuss & Davis, New York, $237.55.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Weldon and son, George Weldon, of Owensboro, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Byrne Severs Sunday.

MEETING CLOSED

No Visible Results, But Sermons of Strength and Courage Were Received by Christians.

The Rev. G. W. Hummel, of Russellville, left for his home Friday night after giving a series of most helpful sermons at the Methodist church.

While no results were visible, the meeting was a benefit and a pleasure to many. Through the entire week Rev. Hummel continuously read the scripture, prayed and preached so that many were helped. He gave lengthy readings from the Bible, saying that all the words he could say would not be as great as those. He prayed in gratitude that everywhere are found the few who are faithful. One of the best sermons he preached was about Job—not about his patience but his triumph with Christ over Satan. Job in all his afflictions, he believed in God and trusted him. His great belief made him a victorious man. "When you have disappointments, failure in business, clothes that are out of style, a husband who fails to meet the bills, a wife who frets and worries, if you can still keep love in your heart and know that God is with you, you shall triumph. If you are left on a rock with no one, but God, you are safe. These are some of the thoughts from his good sermon about the man who is remembered for his patience. Rev. Hummel said the meanest words in the English language when they are put together are: "I told you so."

Day's Pleasure Sadly Ended.

Monday evening about nine o'clock Miss Marie Birchler, of Tell City, met death by drowning when she attempted to step from a gasoline boat and missed her footing. The young lady stepped between two barges and was never seen again, as the body must have struck one of the barges when it rose. She had been with a party of school friends on a fishing trip, and was returning when the accident occurred. In less than a minute she was gone from view and the current carried her beneath the barge from where she had stepped. A diligent search for the body was begun immediately, her body being found Friday afternoon.

Much Interest in Brown's Contest Now.

Brown's, the ice cream parlor and candy kitchen, has an interesting contest on. With every nickel a chance to draw a letter is given. If you get the letters to spell Brown's, and the first to get to the restaurant on July 5, you will get $5. Much interest is taken in the contest. One ice cream fiend has Brown, just three more letters to get.

COOPER TELLS WHY TANLAC IS POPULAR

Because the Preparation Contains Real Merit. He Says in Statement.

"If I have been successful with Tanlac," says L. T. Cooper, "it is because the preparation contains real merit."

"Tanlac is the result of many years of arduous study by my principal chemist. In fact the two of us have carefully watched its development from the beginning of the experimental tests to its present high state of efficiency."

"In cases of catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes, stomach, liver, and kidney complaints, I believe there is nothing so far discovered that will equal the action of Tanlac."

"Ever and anon someone suggests something that may tend to better our conditions, whether it may appertain to our health, our business, or our sociological state. It has, therefore, been my pleasure this time to offer to the world Tanlac."

"When I came to Louisville, I stated that the success of the medicine would be as great in this city as it was elsewhere. I offered Tanlac upon its merits, knowing full well that it would prove satisfactory if properly tested."

"The success the preparation has achieved here in Louisville is ample evidence that my confidence in Tanlac is well placed."

"A large percentage of your best people are now using the preparation, and they are daily testifying to its excellent worth as a medicine of exceptional value in instances of catarrh, stomach, liver, and kidney derangements, nervous debility, and in cases where a superior tonic is required."

"Tis true that the demand for Tanlac has been large, but no larger than I had expected. Louisville is only awakening to an appreciation of the full value of such a preparation. Tanlac's success in your city will be even greater."

Tanlac, the premier preparation, is introduced in Cloverport by Wedding's drug store, and in Irvington by Irvington Pharmacy.

Use Kind Words.

You never can train a colt, a calf, or any animal, wild or tame, unless you gain its entire confidence and affection. To do this you must never deceive it, not even for fun, and always protect it and show that you love it.

"The way to a man's heart is through his stomach," and the road to the affection of an animal is by way of its taste.

An apple, a bit of tender grass, or some tasty bit will soon make friends with it, and kind words and petting will make it a loving and obedient friend—Home and Fireside.

Bilious Attacks.

When you have a bilious attack your liver fails to perform its functions. You become constipated. The food you eat ferments in your stomach instead of digesting. This inflames the stomach and causes nausea, vomiting and a terrible headache. Take Chamberlain's Tablets. They will tone up your liver, clean out your stomach and you will soon be as well as ever. They only cost a quarter. Obtainable everywhere.

A Wish Bone.

An older fellow, who will soon be taxed as a bachelor said to his young nephew, who was tall and thin, you better climb the telephone post, that will take you for a bone. The nephew who was quite thin himself, saw he had injured the boy and put his long strong arm around his neck and comforted him. "We both better climb the post now, the dog will take us for a wish bone."

LIFE SAVING SIGNS.

The Safety movement that is being organized by the telephone and railroad companies will do much to protect the lives of many, if the individuals will heed to the cautions, plans and signs that are being made for their good. In order to cut down the ever increasing roll of Sunday accidents that fill the papers on blue Monday a vigorous campaign is on to impress the automobile public the necessity of caution at railroad crossings. The general manager of a road says he dreads to answer the telephone at his home on Sunday night for fear of hearing of an automobile party being maimed or killed. "The Monday morning list in the newspapers is nerve wracking I want it stopped and anything we can do to stop it will be done." Big life saving signs are looming up at all the crossings of this railroad. Literature is being sent out, newspaper advertising used to get people to take care of their own lives. So careless have people become, that these Safety Organizations have been resorted to just to get persons to come to their senses and think of safety first, instead of pleasure and excitement. The Cumberland Telephone Company has also started the Safety movement among their employees and if they will respond, many accidents will be prevented. The Safety movement has not reached every part of the country where automobiles are popular, but the people who drive them may protect themselves, if a man values his life enough to do his part to save it. Reckless automobile driving has a goal that can be quickly reached.

CAPABLE MEN OF LITTLE FAITH.

The New York Sun valued the Flying Squadron's work sufficiently to give editorial notice, and asked questions that shows the capable writer is a man of little faith. "What taxes are to make good the $80,000,000 now paid in the state, etc? What is to recompense the 240,000 odd persons in the liquor business and their multitude of employees?" The editor of the Sun does not ask what has become of the millions who have lost not only good jobs, but have lost their homes, their families and their own souls through whiskey. We cannot understand why capable minded men cannot have faith to see there is more money and satisfaction in giving up the liquor business than in trying to keep it. Even if taxes are higher, there will be more men able to pay them. We are glad we have faith enough to turn down whiskey ads, ads against State-Wide Prohibition and political speeches that might aid in electing a man for governor who stands for the liquor interests.

If it were not for the dollars and cents, the liquor business promises, world-wide prohibition would come today. Men hate the sin and sorrow and trouble whisky brings, but most men love the money that comes and goes with it. No matter what your loss is, in standing against the liquor forces, have faith and you will be victorious. Even if you fail in business, you will win in the right and that is triumph.

BRUSH TEETH FOR PRIZES.

Saturday, May 29, was toothbrush field day at Prospect Park in New York City. 700,000 boys and girls with toothbrushes, in classes limited to thirty-five, prepared for the exercises. Dental societies awarded prizes for the best drills. The toothbrush drill consists in correct brushing of the teeth, performed rhythmically to the teacher's count. There are sixteen strokes to each movement and the toothbrush is dipped in a cup of water between each movement. The drug stores co-operated with the plans of the bureau of educational hygiene by selling toothbrushes at greatly reduced prices during the week. This interest in the care of the teeth should be encouraged in every home and every school. Clean teeth are not only charming, but they prevent many germs from entering the system. The only way a little girl was persuaded to brush her teeth after each meal, was telling her that every particle of food left in her teeth, turned to worms. The story brought the desired effect and the child keeps her teeth perfectly.

THOUSANDS OF MEXICANS STARVING.

An appeal has been made to the American Red Cross for food for the starving people of Monterey, Mexico. The conditions at Mexico City can hardly be exaggerated. It is reported that the people will starve unless help comes quickly. American Consul Hannu tells of people eating mules and even rats. The Red Cross has sent already a carload of corn and one of beans, but they cannot continue to send assistance without public contributions. The Mexicans have been facing starvation for months and now the acute stage has reached them. Any one, who can possibly, contribute anything for the Mexicans, should write to the Red Cross representatives. Just a thought of these terrible conditions in Mexico, should make every American thankful that he is in the United States and appreciate his good fortune in having plenty of good food and raiment.

Many perhaps will be disappointed that the Corn, Clover and Stock Club, of Irvington, has called off the barbecue for June 26, but no one will be disappointed that the popularity contest will not be carried through. The work of the young ladies, who make the contests successful, is always appreciated, but people in general do not like popularity contests. And the contestants do not really enjoy the work of contesting. It is hoped that money-making contests will not be revived in Breckenridge county.

ENVOYS BUSY IN WARRING NATIONS

United States Is Now Clearing House For Diplomacy.

LARGER STAFFS ARE NEEDED

Entrance of Italy Imposes Huge New Burden on All Our Embassies—Belligerents Presumed to Pay the Cost, but Suggestion Is Made That We Do It.

Washington.—With Italy in the war, the United States comes near to being the diplomatic clearing house of the whole world.

If the United States should go into the war the diplomacy of the world would be near the point of blowing up.
Austrian diplomatic and consular affairs have been turned over in Italy to the American officials.

This will be one more big burden shouldered off on the overworked American agents in several countries.
Already Americans are handling these affairs for warring powers all around the world.

The addition of the complicated concerns of Germany, Italy and Austria will necessitate special provision of more personnel and further drafts on this country's resources of people trained for this kind of service.

Until now Italy and the United States have been the only first class powers not involved in the war. In ordinary circumstances the Italians would have been asked to divide with the Americans the duty of playing first friend to the warring nations.

But in the present instance it was impossible because Italy was nominal-office of diplomacy.

It would be well nigh impossible to catalogue the duties that fall to the diplomatic agents of the mutually friendly power which takes over this set of relations when war breaks out.
In England, for instance, there was a large population of Germans and Austrians. Some were naturalized; some were not. Many of both classes were property owners. Some were anxious to get out of the country; others were just as anxious that they should not be forced out of it. American agents had to look after their interests.

When the war got fairly under way camps for prisoners of war began to be established in all the warring countries. Complaints came from these, and American diplomats had to look after the interests of British and French and Russian prisoners in Germany and Austria and vice versa. Commissions have been sent to supplement the efforts of the regular diplomatic establishment in this regard.

Not the least difficult services required of the American consuls and diplomats have been in connection with the colonial internments of belligerents. Thus there have been established in India, in Canada and in Australia special camps for taking care of citizens of enemy countries.
Many hundreds of men are held in the big internment establishments, while their families have required attention elsewhere because they have not been formally interned, but left largely to shift for themselves. These cases have created a set of problems, not new to diplomacy, but never so large as in the present war.

FIFTY YEAR SEARCH ENDS.

P. C. Grimes, Seventy-five, Finds His Long Lost Sister.

Altus, Okla.—A search of fifty years, extending over a dozen different states, during the progress of which a small fortune was expended in an advertising campaign, ended at Altus when P.
C. Grimes of Nebraska City, Neb., stepped from an express passenger train into the arms of his sister, Mrs.
H. W. Jones of Altus.

Mr. Grimes is seventy-five years old.
Fifty years ago, after the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Jones, the family broke up. After a few years they lost trace of each other and all efforts to get into communication were unavailing.

Mr. Grimes then began his search.
It was a mere accident that Grimes finally found his sister. He had written a letter to her, directed to Rix, a postoffice in Green county, long since discontinued. The letter was thrown to Mungum, and Postmaster G. B.
Townsend, who happened to be personally acquainted with Mrs. Jones, forwarded the letter to her.

SHE QUIT PARSONAGE.

When Pastor-Husband Forgot Art of Kissing.

St. Louis.—Mrs. Eugenia Anderson, nineteen years old, seven months' bride of the Rev. Arthur B. Anderson, pastor of the Central Christian church in Granite City, has returned to the home of her mother, Mrs. Minnie Koch of this city, because she says her husband would not kiss her.

She told a reporter that in the last two months her husband had kissed her but once and that this lone salute was bestowed, not upon her lips, true lover fashion, but in a half hearted way on her cheek.

She said she did not wish to be divorced and would be glad to resume her place as mistress of the manse if her husband would only give her a little affection.

RACE SUICIDE LAID TO GIRLS' COLLEGES

Coeducation Is Urged as the More Desirable Course.

Pittsburgh.—Separate colleges for women in the United States should be abolished and coeducation substituted, according to Professors Roswell Johnson and Herbert J. Stutzmann of the University of Pittsburgh.

This conclusion is based on the charge that women's colleges contribute largely to race suicide among the best elements of the American population.

In support of this contention the records of Wellesley college have been analyzed and the results published in the Journal of Heredity, the organ of the American Genetic association of this city.

The investigators found that twenty years after graduation fewer than one-half of the girls have married. These have borne only one and one-half children each.

Taking all the students into account and allowing enough time to elapse so that it is probable they will bear no more children, the investigators next found that the Wellesley girls contribute less than one child each to the race—that is, they do not even reproduce their own number. And the honor students, who from a genetic point of view are assumed to be the pick of the lot, do only about a third as well as this.

To maintain a stationary population the writers say that every married woman should bear four children. From this point of view they believe that the women's colleges are hastening the extinction of the old American stock.

The colleges are blamed for failure to give girls an opportunity to meet young men and for failure to make them desirous or competent to be wives and mothers. It is shown statistically that the marriage rate of "coeds" is considerably better, and it is remarked that at Wellesley the students are for-bidden to receive men callers even on Sunday, their only free day.

Viewed as to marriageability, the investigators consider a woman most attractive during her college years, and they declare it of vital importance that young men should be allowed to meet her in that period.

NO BOOZE TO INDIANS.

California Law Forbids Sale to Any of Them.

Sacramento, Cal.—It is made illegal to sell intoxicating liquors to "squaw men" or any one who lives or associates with Indians and to any person of part Indian blood under a bill by Assemblyman Phelps just signed by Governor Johnson.

The bill aims to end an asserted practice of white persons purchasing liquor to carry into the camps and villages of Indians in the remote mountain districts.

Invents Eyeless Needle.

Pierpont, S. D.—Dr. F. W. Murphy and Frank Johnson of this city have invented an eyeless needle for use by surgeons. All of the surgeons who have tried this new invention declare it to be the greatest thing in its line in place of the thread being run through the eye, thereby causing irritation to the wound while it is being sewed up, this needle is so arranged that the thread is fastened in the butt and is held in place by a secretly constructed spring appliance.

LOST MEMORY AND ENLISTED.

Fracture of Jaw in Ball Game Brought Bailley to Himself.

Toronto, Ont.—Parley Douglas Bailley, son of Professor George Bailley of Cazenovia, N. Y., who while suffering from lapse of memory enlisted in the Royal Canadian dragoons here on March 11 last under another name, has recovered his memory. He walked into police headquarters and was so affected by what he heard of the efforts made to find him that he had to be sent to the hospital barracks.

Bailley, who is a graduate of Syracuse university, received a shock from lightning and fell forty feet while engaged in tree surgery in Denver. He disappeared while on his way to see a Syracuse physician. Partial recovery of his memory is believed to have resulted from the shock of a fractured jaw received in a baseball game at the barracks several weeks ago. He has no recollection of having enlisted and it is said will be discharged.

OUT EMPTY, BACK FULL.

Bottle Dropped in Nile Came Back Full of Rye.

Virginia, Minn.—A. H. Coates, a well known mining man, got a surprise in the express the other day. It was a bottle of whisky from a Kentucky distillery that he had not ordered.

The odd thing about the gift was that the liquor was in a bottle that Mr.
Coates emptied with a party of friends while stemming down the river Nile, in Africa, about a year ago and threw into the murky stream.

In the bottle he had placed a slip of paper bearing his name and address.
Some one found the bottle and forwarded it to the distillery, where it was filled and sent to Mr. Coates with the liquor factory's compliments. The original bottle was presented to Mr.
Coates by a local friend when he started on his African trip.

EATS FIRST REAL MEAL AFTER SURGICAL PROBE

Drank Lye When a Baby—Unable to Eat For Sixteen Years.

St. Louis.—Miss Katherine Besse, eighteen years old, ate the first breakfast, luncheon and dinner she ever ate in her life a few days ago. For sixteen years she had not tasted completely food of any description. The channel of her throat, the esophagus, was in position, but was entirely useless until Dr. Francis W. Kirsch performed an operation known as gas-trostomy and brought her back to normal.

When she was two years old Miss Besse, who is the daughter of the widow of a grocer, drank a solution of lye while her mother was busy at her housework.

The lye burned away the membranes of the child's mouth and the lining of her esophagus and caused this channel from her mouth to her stomach to become strictured and to close tightly.

A physician who was called to attend her said she would die unless her esophagus was cut loose from her stomach and a new one made from parts of the stomach fashioned into a tube and sewed to the surface of her breast.

Her parents refused to permit the physician to cut away the deadened esophagus but granted him permission to bring the lining of the stomach to the surface of her body and make an opening near the solar plexus, through which liquid food might be given her.

Dr. Kirsch became interested in the case. He began a gentle probing with a slender pliable steel rod, which he forced down her esophagus. One after another the closed places in the old tissue were forced open and broken apart. As they were broken they were left attached to the inside of the new tissue that gradually had grown around the unused tube.

Nature then began its process of absorption until the new throat was clear of any stricture. Then the surgeon placed the patient under an anesthetic and swiftly cut away the stitches that held the lining of the stomach to the old opening in the breast, sewed this together and dropped it in place, sewed together the muscles that had been severed sixteen years ago, cut away the abnormal tissues that had grown around the wound, stitched the severed skin together and when Miss Besse awoke from the ether told her she had become normal again.

Billy Understands.

At the Methodist Sunday School in the primary department the little ones are taught the Lord's prayer in sentences. "Give us this day our daily bread," said the teacher. Asking each one to repeat it from memory, and at the call of his name, little Billy Phelps answered:
"Give me a bite of Bread."

Raindrops.

Drops of rain vary in their size perhaps from a twenty-fifth to a quarter of an inch in diameter. In parting from the clouds they precipitate their descent till the increasing resistance opposed by the air becomes equal to their weight, when they continue to fall with uniform velocity. This velocity is therefore in a certain ratio to the diameter of the drops; hence thunder and other showers in which the drops are large pour down faster than a drizzling rain. A drop of the twenty-fifth part of an inch in falling through the air would, when it had arrived at its uniform velocity, acquire a celerity of only eleven and a half feet per second, while one of a quarter of an inch would have a velocity of thirty-three and a half feet.

ments that neglect me."

ITALY'S AIR FLEET THIRD IN WORLD

Big Force of Machines For Land and Sea Work.

TWO TYPES ARE EMPLOYED

One is Rigid and the Other Semirigid, and Good Results Have Been Obtained From Both—Proved Their Worth During Italo-Turkish War—Machine Guns on Land Squadron.

Rome.—Italy's air force ranks third numerically—right after Germany and France. Two successful types of airplanes have been evolved—the Brigata Specialisti (nonrigid) and the Forlanini (semirigid) types.

Captain Crocco and Riccardi, having achieved fame in aerodynamic research work, were assigned to develop the first Italian military dirigible in 1904. Its trial in 1908 was satisfactory. The type was improved into the P class of Italian dirigibles. The P-1, in 1909, flew from Bracciano to Naples, a three hour trip. The P-2 the next year flew from Rome to Venice, crossing the Apennines. The construction of a fleet of dirigibles was decided upon in 1911. Three types were constructed—the small type (P class), a medium (M class) and a large (G class), ranging from 2,500 cubic meters capacity to more than 20,000 cubic meters.

When the Italo-Turkish war began several P's and an M were shipped to Libya. They proved of great value in the military operations in Africa.

Enrico Forlanini's Leonardo da Vinci having proved a successful example of the semirigid airship, the citizens of Milan bought a ship from him and presented it to the government, calling it the Citta di Milano, in 1913. Another Forlanini type has been added to the fleet.

The most recent additions have been a 40,000 cubic meter Brigata Specialisti, called the G-1, and a speedy V-1, built by the same establishment after plans by an aerial engineer named Verduzio. The craft can make ninety kilometers an hour. Eleven dirigible sheds are scattered over Italy.

The Italian aeroplane fleet, which was a factor in the Libya victory, consists of fifteen machines and two sea squadrons, each of ten machines, seven active and three in reserve. The personnel consists of ten pilots, officers and noncommissioned officers and fifty enlisted men (mechanics).

The land squadrons are made up of armed scouts with machine guns and gun spotters. Sixty fast monoplane "spotters" recently were delivered to the army. Many powerful armored "bombardiers" are under construction. The new Caproni bombardier plane is a biplane, armored and carrying a one inch quick fire gun in front. It can make seventy-five miles an hour and can stay aloft twenty-five hours.

Only four types of machines are used in the Italian service, although many older types are used in the aviation schools. The four are the national Caproni, the Savoia-Farman, the St. Bleriot and Nieuport-Macchi.

The larger airships of the Italian fleet are as follows:

Name	Date	Type	Length	Capac- ity	Speed
G-1, 1914	brig.	40,000	50
V-1, 1915	Verduzio	15,000	30
Citta di Milano, 1913

The rating in airships is as follows:
Germany 300,000 cu. m. in 18 airships
France 250,000 cu. m. in 15 airships
Italy 150,000 cu. m. in 13 airships

BACKACHE IS A WARNING

Cloverport People Should Not Neglect Their Kidneys.

Backache is of ten nature's most frequent signal of weakened kidneys. To cure the pains and aches, to remove the lameness when it arises from weakened kidneys, you must reach the cause—the kidneys. If you have pain through the small of your back, urinary disorders, headaches, dizzy spells, or are nervous and depressed, start treating the kidneys with a tested kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills have been proved good and are especially for weak kidneys. Doan's have been used in kidney trouble for over 50 years. Read Cloverport testimony.

J. B. Strong, farmer, Cloverport, says: "I had trouble from weak kidneys, together with pains across the small of my back and through my sides. Doan's Kidney Pills quickly cured me and in return, I highly recommend them."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Strong had. Foster-Milburn Co., Prop., Buffalo, N. Y.

PROPER CARE FOR HORSES AND COLTS

Oats Go Well With Timothy Hay —Straw and Corn Diet Is Liable to Cause Trouble.

Oats are the best general food for a horse, and go well with timothy hay. Once or twice a week give a feed of corn and clover with bran mash. Give only what will be eaten up clean.

Some horses are predisposed to colic, and a straw and corn diet is almost sure to cause trouble at frequent intervals with such cases.

Horses fed regularly often get in the habit of pawing in the stable. Feed them regularly, and if not driven or used every day turn the horses out into the yard for exercise.

Many horses are ruined by being brought into the barn too hot and left to stand in a cold draft, or hitched to a post to stand, unblanketed, facing the wintry blasts.

If you starve the colt the first winter, he is liable to come out very thin in the spring and worth less than when weaned.

Some farmers keep their horses on straw with just a little grain in winter. Bran should make part of such a ration.

It is believed by many that clover hay gives the horses heaves. This is a mistake. If a horse is fed the proper quantity of clover and not overfed, there is no danger of the heaves.

Do not give horses water immediately after eating. An hour after they have finished their meal is soon enough to water them.

The colt's training must begin shortly after birth. A halter should be put on so he can be caught and handled every day. Never tease him.

Loading Hens

Watch closely and you will discover that the hen that loafs or mopes never lays. Why do they loaf? Because during the molting season they get bilious. Look at their tongues, or what we call tongues, and you will find a pale, whitish color instead of a healthy pink. Start the liver with B. A. Thomas' Pultry Powder and you will see them perk up. They begin to sing and scratch—soon they begin to lay. We guarantee B. A. Thomas' Pultry Powder. For sale at Weddington's drug store, Cloverport, Ky.

Thoughts That Help

Do not wait to be afraid;
Many a ghastly thing is laid
In the light from out the shade,
Wait and see.

Do not live your sorrows twice;
Fear is like a touch of ice;
Faith can melt it in a trice,
Wait and see.

Why expect the worst to come?
Fostered cares are troublesome;
Joy makes up a goodly sum,
Wait and see.

Better than your wildest dreams
Is God's light that for you gleams, When the morning cloudy seems,
Wait and see.

DAIRY COW NEEDS REST FROM HER LABORS

Profitable Specimens of Dairy Cows.

Most farmers seem to breed the cow with no concern as to her resourcefulness or enduring qualities. She is bred at an early age; bred again just as soon as she will come in heat after her first calving; held right to her milk as nearly as possible to the next calving time, and handled thus until she is worn out, and no longer useful.

With such management, her unborn calf will have much of its sustenance taken from it on account of the nourishment going toward keeping up the cow, which results in a weakened offspring, and this influence gradually wears a most deteriorating effect on the grade of the herd in general, since each succeeding calf will be still more undesirable than the one before it.

We have seen cows whose nature rebelled against such treatment, and invariably these animals positively refused to come in sufficient heat to be gotten with calf. This shows, conclusively, that the cow requires and deserves a short period of rest from her labors every season.

We aim to give the cow about three or four months' rest out of every season, feeding and caring for her, with a view to intensive dairying the remainder of the year. This not only enables the cow to do her best while being milked, but yields us greater returns for the time and labor expended in handling her, and her dairy products.

Of course the same rule will not apply to each individual member of the herd, as some can be dried up with very little effort, while some will milk right up to the time they drop their calf.

In either case we discontinue feeding those rations which are conducive to a profuse milk flow, for from two to four months before calving time, and so far, we have always been successful in drying up any cow in time to allow her a good rest before it was necessary to begin milking her again. Regularity in feeding is important.

VINCENT ASTOR'S AIRSHIP SAID TO BE "FOOL PROOF."

Hydroaeroplane Has Luxurious Cabin
In Which Bride Will Fly.

The $14,000 hydroaeroplane which Vincent Astor is learning to fly at Marblehead, Mass., is said to be "fool proof." It was specially constructed for him and has a comfortable cabin in which he will take his bride on flights, it is said.

By various devices the craft is believed to have been given the highest degree of safety and inherent stability obtainable in air navigation. In addition to this, personal comfort and attractive appearance have been provided for in the construction of the machine.

The main floating section is comprised in the boat hull, which will house not only the pilot and passengers, but fuel and oil supplies. For the first named there are two compartments, one at the bow for the operator and one amidships. The latter is furnished with two seats, the rear of which contains a duplicate set of controls.

The rear compartment is located directly between the two sections of the lower wing surface. The occupants of this compartment will be thoroughly sheltered from wind and spray.

The method of access to the forward part of the machine is a novel feature of it. Two doors at the bow give entrance to this compartment, and thence to the stern. When the doors are closed the occupants are afforded perfect shelter. Both sections have deep upholstered seats and spring cushions.

The motor will develop from 100 to 110 horsepower, and will furnish power to drive the craft at a speed of between sixty-five and seventy miles an hour.

The machine is supplemented with a specially built floating hangar, which can be piloted to any location to please Mr. Astor's fancy and convenience.

WEED OUT USELESS RAMS AND WETHERS

Keep Sheep Supplied With Salt— Variety of Feed Is Best— Keep Lambs Growing.

Weed out old rams and wethers out of the flock and send them to the market. They are a nuisance with ewes and small lambs.

Don't let the sheep get half-starved for salt. If you do, when you salt them they will eat so much they will be sick. Give some every day. In everything be regular and moderate.

Feed rations that will keep the ewes regular. Variety is what you need to aim at.

There is little to eat in the pastures yet, so keep the sheep in. As soon as they get a taste of green grass they will not want dry hay, and are apt to fall off in flesh; that you do not want, for the lambs must be kept growing.

When your lambs get enough good milk from their mothers they will grow. It is the hungry lambs that stand around bleating and with backs humped. It looks bad. Lively lambs are the ones that will bring you the money a little later.

CONDORS ROOST HIGH.

They Perch at an Altitude of 15,000 Feet Above the Sea.

There is a splendid specimen of the male condor in a glass case in the bird-room of the Children's museum in Brooklyn. Though he stands three and one-half feet high, the spread of his wings is nine feet.

"The condors live throughout the Andes, principally in Chile and Peru. Their favorite haunts are the level of perpetual snow," writes Miss Anna B. Gallup in the Museum News. "During a portion of the year condors roost in the trees on the lower mountain slopes, but in the breeding season (the summer months of November and December) they retire to the most broken and terrific precipices, 10,000 to 15,000 feet above the sea level, where no other creature can dwell. There on a ledge or shelf of rock the female lays two white eggs nearly four inches in length. Sometimes she places a few sticks around them, perhaps to keep them from rolling out of place.

"After about seven weeks, in February or early in March, the young hatch, entirely covered with soft white down, that afterward turns to a brown color.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

This is a remedy that every family should be provided with, and especially during the summer months. Think of the pain and suffering that must be endured when medicine must be sent for or before relief can be obtained. This remedy is thoroughly reliable. Ask anyone who has used it. Obtainable everywhere.

Trapping Baboons.

Hagenbeck in his book says that baboons are caught in traps made much like the luts of savages. Food is put into the luts, and once the baboons go inside a trapdoor closes behind them. Outside baboons make a great to do and urge the prisoners to escape. When the trappers come the captured baboons are terror stricken and try to force their heads through the walls of the luts. One baboon was caught three times in the same trap, and several when turned loose got back into the same trap a second time. When the baboons are carried away all their comrades thereabout climb into trees and scream out to the prisoners, who answer in sad, mournful voices. On one occasion some big Arabian baboons were trapped, when 2,000 or 3,000 baboons hurried themselves upon the trappers, who had hard work to save themselves with firearms and clubs. As the trappers were forced back the victorious baboons tore up the trap and turned loose the captured baboons.

THAT TIRED FEELING

Do You Continually Feel Sluggish, Disinterested?

If you do, it is probably caused by your liver. When the liver fails to perform its functions properly, the system becomes clogged with poisonous matter, that weighs you down mentally and physically.

The liver gets out of order very easily, and if neglected, chronic trouble usually results. Don't delay if you feel badly. You knowingly lay yourself open to life long pain, when you allow yourself to continue in a run down condition. Cure yourself quickly and harmlessly with the natural vegetable remedy, Liv-Ver-Lax. It has all the effectiveness, but not the effect, of calomel.

Genuine Liv-Ver-Lax bears the likeness and signature of L. K. Grigsby and is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. Insist on it. For sale by Kinchloe's Pharmacy.

Boys Who Like to Swim.

Unless the city of New York is willing to spend $24,000 for floating baths this summer, the boys will continue to swim in interior bath houses, unless they can afford to leave the city for the months of June, July and August. The Cloverport boys, who were swimming in the river last week as cold as it was, cannot sympathize with those poor city boys, who are arrested if they jump into the river.

The reason the New York youngsters are begging for the floating baths is because they want to swim in the open air and sunbath. It must be awful to live in a city where a boy has to beg for open air, sunshine and a fresh water swim. The boys who live in the country can appreciate their opportunities for health and pleasure, when they learn how the boys of the big cities have to beg and plead for a chance at out-door sports.

SMOKELESS POWDER.

And One Reason Why Our Big Guns Are Made So Long.

Only 43 per cent of ordinary gunpowder is converted into gas when it explodes. The remaining 57 per cent is unconsumed residue, which we see in the form of smoke. With smokeless powder it is different. On ignition it is converted wholly into gas. A much greater volume of gas is produced, and the explosive effect is proportionately increased.

When the war with Spain broke out in 1898 the United States government did not have any smokeless powder.
 The Spaniards, on the other hand, had plenty of it and used it on both land and sea. Consequently the American besiegers at Santiago were unable to see the Spanish soldiers firing at them, whereas the enemy could see by the puffs of smoke just where to shoot.
 When Admiral Cervera's ships came out of the harbor and tried to escape, the vessels of the American squadron found it hard in the fight that followed to fire accurately because their view of the foe was obscured by the clouds of smoke from their own guns.

There are many kinds of smokeless gunpowder. One of the best known is the English cordite, which, when forced through holes in a perforated metal plate while in a plastic condition, takes the form of thick strings that look like brown rubber. The strings are cut up into short cylindrical pieces.
 You can safely hold a string of cordite in your hand and light one end of it; it will burn slowly with a bright flame.

A characteristic of smokeless powders is that they burn very slowly; on that account modern guns are very long, in order that all the powder of a charge may have time to be transformed into gas before the projectile driven by it leaves the muzzle of the weapon. The smokeless powder used by our army and navy is made by soaking nitro cotton in a mixture of ether and alcohol. It is thus converted into a plastic substance that may be molded or cut into any shape required. For small arms it is manufactured in a form resembling spaghetti—long strings that are chopped into little pieces and packed into the cartridges. For big guns it is made in long rods, which, after being perforated from end to end with a number of holes to insure quicker ignition, are cut into short lengths. That kind of powder, which might be called an explosive celluloid, is of a horny consistency. As in the case of other smokeless powders, the slowness with which it burns is owing mainly to its density.
 The very cloth of the bags used to contain charges of gunpowder for the big guns has itself been made of smokeless powder—that is, woven of threads of exactly the same substance.
 That is an invention of the Germans.
 The bag thus becomes part of the explosive charge and when the gun is fired is wholly consumed.—Professor Charles S. Munroe in Youth's Companion.

Fox Hunt Fit For a King.

Thursday eve at 5:30 o'clock I rolled off the L. & N. at Providence and there to greet me was my fine and elegant old friend, Barber Givens, whom I had served notice on by phone that I would be there. To his home we went from train direct and not long waiting we were invited to partake of that most delightful table where we had old fashioned country ham and red gravy and hot corn cakes. After replenishing the inner man and a pleasant chat, we soon were astride a d. Dick, the saddle "hoss," that is a saddle horse, and off to Liberty Hills we rode with his pack of ten hounds scattered along, some before and some behind. The young ginger ones up to the front ready for every cat or our pup that passed in front to get rid of that young run in them, behind, there followed the old reliables, Lina, Cotton, Woodrow Wilson, Jackie, Julia and Good Eyes, that had reached the stage of life to save their energy strictly for business.
 And, sure enough, so soon as we neared the running ground, old Lina trotted up a little ahead. As we rode up near to the starting place through a lane old Lina stopped at the side of the road, his old sturdy tail began to shake, and Barber said, "Stop." And soon a little while and then a mouth from old Lina served notice to the other pack, the old red fox had crossed there, and before you could say, scat, the others fell in ahead of him and away they went to the hills nearby, with their rhyme of sweet music of the fine pack and friends who fell in with us on the way out to this grand hunting ground. After a few little skirmishes with first one and then another fighting for the lead, Mr. Fox, took a shot for Hall Knob. One of the pack seemed to say, "Come on gentlemen, he is going to stretch us." I ask, "What's 'dat dog' seems to be talking so strong about?" Our nigger mascot spoke up and says "Dat am tearing out Woodrow Wilson an dem other dogs has got to heel some if dey want to keep company with him, dat Woodrow am a some sure nough fox dog." Well, that stretch to Hall Knob of thirty minutes out of hearing, we swung to our left and they did pass with that Woodrow still to the front, Lizzie and Lina and the rest of the bunch, close on Woodrow's heels.
 The hair was now standing straight on my head as this fast, fine running and sweet music was filling the hills and hollows, on as grand a night as was ever my pleasure to be in the woods. A circle to our left, a little babble on one of the swings and back they come again with Lina and Lizzie doing the main talking. I says, "Where am my Woodrow and old Good Eye?" Just wait a little and Woodrow will report. Just a little break and our "nigger mascot" says, "Boss, dere's dat bad Woodrow and dat Good Eye got his company." Good Eye got his name by having only one eye saved after a little puppy skrimish. Can't keep that Woodrow Wilson back very long and his brother, Good Eye.

The way they went for more than one round, practically with an occasional dropping over a hill from our hearing that filled our hearts with the grand chase, they put Mr. Red to his hiding place about 1:30 a. m. and it was about 2:30 a. m. when we unsaddled and rolled into the hay on fresh clean sheets at Mrs. Barber Givens' house which use to be "Mr. Givens' house. Sweet time sure change the condition of this place for the old bachelor. And now the charming helpmate who makes chunks of yellow butter as large as Barber's head, size 8, and a cellar full of jam and preserves. A glorious place!

I am so glad I was spared for one more sweet chase like the many I often had in the hills of Meade county, the place of my birth.

We Aim to Satisfy

The little courtesies we extend to our customers win friends. When we started in the grocery business we were determined to give satisfaction.
 This is a simple business proposition but it is one not all business men follow. It will pay you to trade with us. Our

Barbecue Called Off

Realizing that a retreat at this time will be construed by some as little short of Waterloo, we stand today and wave the banner of the

CORN, CLOVER AND STOCK CLUB

over the remains of our barbecue that we had advertised for the 26th.
 When the date was set it was a safe prediction that harvest would be over and the farmer well up with his work. But alas "Man proposes and God disposes," nor should we grumble, because prospects are fine for a bountiful harvest. Providence willing, we will have parts of the barbecue rolled down and presented to you in a nutshell at the country fair, September 24 and 25. As punishment to club members they are assessed each a three-months-old pig, to be donated to the fair.
 Swine to be auctioned off under owner's name, then sold as a lot.
 Pig bringing largest sum will be given prize of $2.50, second largest half-price and smallest pig in lot. Going from the redolent to the sublime, the ladies who sold the most dinner tickets (those who bought them will have their money returned of course) will draw for two gold medals to be presented the first day of the fair. There is but two contestants and if you will select a pair of the finest as well as the fairest in the district, you will not have to inquire their names.
 Hoping to meet twice the crowd at our fair this year as last, we bid you adieu until September 24th and 25th. Catalogues ready by July 1st. Write for one.
